MESSAGE FROM THE PREZ

By the time you read this, we will have had our first Zoom general meeting of the AAUW new year. I hope you found it informative and helpful for your voting decisions. If you had difficulties signing in to Zoom, please let Pam Zirion help you.

During these challenging times, we find ourselves adjusting to changes that aren't necessarily comfortable, but necessary.

In order to assist you during this coming year, the board has decided that I will now be your branch president and Laurie King will take over as membership chair. This will help us with communications and work assignments.

Remember that we are here for you. If you have anything you wish us to address during our Zoom meetings, please let me know.

Until we can meet face to face, stay safe and healthy.

~ Susan Brazil

NOTE: Please see page 2 for an outline of the September meeting.

SEPTEMBER GENERAL MEETING IN REVIEW

The General Branch Meeting was held on Zoom on September 21st. Fifteen members attended.

After the motion to approve the Budget passed, Linda Lidberg gave a report on staffing the election polls in November. Our AAUW branch, along with the SLO branch, will staff all four days for the election polls. We will split the proceeds with the SLO branch. Thanks to everyone who volunteered!

After Branch business was concluded, Pam Zurion and Kathy Cohon coordinated the presentation, 'Women in History.'

Pam read part of the Declaration of Sentiments from the Seneca Falls, NY, convention in July, 1848. The preamble was worded similarly to the Declaration of Independence.

Members were assigned parts to 'A Historic Meeting - The Women's Rights Convention at Seneca Falls,' and the play was read aloud.

'The Suffragist Song' from the Disney movie, "Mary Poppins," was read and/or sung by all.

Jean Burns Slater then led the segment, 'It's My Vote!' begining with a moment of silence honoring Supreme Court Justice, Ruth Bader Ginsberg, who embodied us with strong examples of justice, equity, firmness, fairness, and courage.

Since 1881, AAUW has been the nation's leading voice promoting equity for women and girls.

Jean then presented nonpartisan information about policy concerns as we prepare to vote in the 2020 election.

Three issues under discussion were: Voting Access, Pay Equity, and College Affordability.

Each member wrote down three terms in each area that would indicate to them that the candidate has an interest in these issues.

When informed women vote, we change the conversation. Be prepared to ask tough questions, jump start discussions, and determine where all the candidates stand on these important issues and others.

BALLOTS WILL BE MAILED OUT ON OCTOBER 5th

AAUW PUBLIC POLICY: PROPOSITION UPDATE

In November, voters will make decisions on 12 state ballot propositions. These cover a variety of issues. The Public Policy Committee reviewed the ballot measures to see which ones are relevant to our Public Policy Priorities and to our mission. There are seven that AAUW will support based on this review. We hope you will agree and vote to support these measures.

Several do not address issues relating to our priorities and mission. Those are listed as "No Position." As an individual, you will need to decide how you will vote on these issues without AAUW's recommendation.

Propositions with SUPPORT positions have brief descriptions of what they do and who sponsored the measures, as well as key supporters (pro) and opponents (con). AAUW policies that apply are listed in parentheses.

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

As VP of the Scholarship Corporation, I sent an email in August to each of our 6 scholarship recipients. In part it stated:

When you were interviewed for a University Women scholarship, it was the first year ever that interviews could not be held in person. For you, the road ahead was uncertain, but your past accomplishments will stand you in good stead as your future unfolds.

Please know that the Directors of the AAUW Scholarship Corporation and the other members of the Branch of AAUW wish each one of you success. Our communities will need your creative and intelligent input through the process of recovery from the outcomes of this pandemic.

We, the Directors of the Scholarship Board, would appreciate knowing how your college experience is developing this fall. If time permits, would you kindly reply to this email describing:

- 1) What college you are attending?
- 2) At home or on campus residency?
- 3) Distance learning or classroom?
- 4) Your ability to get the classes you need?
- 5) How life as a freshman today is different from that which was previously known?

The answers from the recipients will be spread over the October, November, and December newsletters.

~Kathi Pettersen, VP Scholarship Corporation

Claire Wellenkamp, Nipomo High School:

Hello Ms. Pettersen!

Thank you so much for your encouragement! I hope everyone at the AAUW is doing well in this time! Here are my answers for your questions:

- 1) I am attending the University of California San Diego (majoring in Marine Biology, and eventually seeking a doctorate).
- 2) As far as I know I will be on campus living in a dorm room, but I would not be surprised if things change.
- 3) Right now, I have one of my four classes in person and the rest are to be distance learning.
- 4) I did get the classes I needed! I had to do a bit of maneuvering but I was able to get the ones that I wanted to take.
- 5) I think life as a college freshman is different today because of the obstacles to getting connected with other people at your school. All of our normally in person orientations are online, most are now restricted to one person per room without roommates, a lot of students won't even be on campus in the fall, and when you do talk to people you have to do it through a mask not knowing what they actually look like.

All of these things add to the difficulties already presented in moving to a new place, causing more of a chance to be isolated and not make new relationships when you lack any others.

Thanks again! I am incredibly thankful for all the help the AAUW has provided me in my college endeavors!

Best Wishes, Claire Wellenkamp

Veronica Fegley, Arroyo Grande High School:

What a joy it was to receive this email from you Kathi!

Between my time practicing piano and drum set, to cutting meat at the butcher shop, I have been getting prepared for my classes to start next week. I will be attending the University of California Berkeley (in my own home) and will be distance learning. Due to social distancing guidelines it has been much harder to get guidance for my classes because I couldn't meet with advisors in person. Advising has been propagated between email and video call, but I am currently enrolled in 16 units.

This is not quite what any of us imagined and it's much harder to get support in school: both academically and socially. I'm not even sure how to find a study group in this environment. Nevertheless, I have confidence once classes start, since all of us are in the same boat, people are going to be much more eager to form bonds and help each other out. Ultimately, although an inconvenience, I think this pandemic is going to build a much tighter knit community in the end as we find different ways to learn and keep in touch and find solutions to barriers previously unfathomable.

Best wishes to everyone in the AAUW and let me know if you need any more input,

Veronica Fegley

PS (later) - Although my classes have been taking place from my bedroom and not at the UC Berkeley campus, they are in fact going quite well. I have 12 units at Cal which include: Earth Science, Liberal Arts Studies, Basic Musicianship, and Music in American Culture. I also joined the Cuesta choir and wind ensemble this semester in order to keep practicing music from home. I have decided to major in music in order to be a band director. It's wonderful to hear from you and your organization and let me know if you have any follow up questions.

Best wishes, Veronica Fegley

SPOTLIGHT ON OUR NEWSLETTER EDITOR

From a third-generation of Sacramento natives, with a paternal grandmother's background of homesteading in Oregon via an 1843 wagon train from Missouri, and maternal ancestry including an Italian countess, thus arrives Gayle Turner. She was raised with a love of the outdoors, with summers spent camping in forests, deserts, lakes, rivers, and oceans all around the western states.

Both of Gayle's parents earned a professional background in science: Mom, a bacteriologist working in her father's pathology lab; Dad a dentist, beginning his practice in the army. Gayle excelled in summer arts programs. At the age of 16, she entered UC Davis, majoring in biological science with a dream to be a forest ranger. Math challenged, Gayle changed her major to Design, graduating in 1974.

A college romance moved Gayle to Fort Collins, CO, where she designed classroom materials for a voc/tech school. After marriage, Gayle and her husband moved to Visalia, where he started a dairy veterinary practice. Gayle worked as a graphic artist for the City of Visalia before becoming a mother to their three children. After several years as a home engineer, circumstances changed, and Gayle attended CSU Fresno to obtain a multiple-subjects teaching credential.

Gayle's search for a new home, a teaching job, and good schools for her three children, ended in Santa Rosa. Once settled, she began teaching 2nd grade at a private school in Rohnert Park. School changes resulted in new jobs, working mornings in Kenwood as a teaching assistant, then with the Sonoma Schools as an interim music teacher, traveling from school to school in the afternoons, creating her own curriculum.

For the next 20 years, Gayle became somewhat of a 'Renaissance' woman, honing many skills through various jobs, such as the marketing director of an air gun company, her own landscaping design business, and as the art department director of a silk screen sign company, renown for signage for parks, such as the 17-Mile Drive, Yellowstone, and the Holocaust Museum in Washington D.C..

Once her youngest daughter left for college in 2006, Gayle moved on a whim to Ashland, Oregon. During the next twelve plus years, she continued developing skills, including as a temp for OSF, an administrative assistant at an Episcopal church, and finally as the disability support specialist for students at Southern Oregon University. After nearly six years in this last position, Gayle retired in 2018.

With good friends living in Nipomo, Gayle made the decision to return to California to buy a home in Blacklake. This area met her needs with temperate weather and being centrally located from her three children and their families. She even found a part-time position with the Lucia Mar USD as a substitute aide in Special Education and as a sub secretary.

Gayle's children have been the joy of her life. Each is married to their sole mates. Her oldest is living in the bay area, and the others are in the central valley of California. Between them, she eagerly awaits being able to visit her 11 grandchildren - all under 12 years old!

Gayle has enjoyed travel adventures both across the United States and internationally. Highlights include visiting all of the western states when she was young, as well as with her own children; New England, a cross-country trip, and a tour of northern Italy with Heidi; and family trips to Hawaii and Australia.

Hobbies have included the playing the violin, painting, crafts, stained glass, home decorating and landscape design. Long walks, water aerobics, gardening, reading, yarn crafts, AAUW, and Nipomo Newcomers now fill her spare time.

Gayle is most proud of having provided a stable home for her children as a single parent. Her motto: "Be genuine, honest, humble, kind, supportive and thankful."

Gayle publishes our AAUW newsletter, constantly displaying her graphic design skills. We are so fortunate to have Gayle as a Branch member of Five Cities Pismo Beach AAUW.

MORE ON WOMEN'S VOTE

"The vote is precious. It is the most powerful non-violent tool we have in a democratic society, and we must use it. And so, you must go out all across America and tell young people, and people not so young, tell all of us: Vote. The vote is powerful." John Lewis

Decades earlier, in 1848, five women felt John Lewis' message. They pioneered what would become a long fight, lasting decades, for women to vote:

- 1848 These five women gather others and launch the women's suffrage movement at the First Women's Rights Convention, held in Seneca Falls, New York
- 1869 The territory of Wyoming is the first to grant unrestricted suffrage to women
- 1911 California becomes the 6^{th} state to grant women suffrage
- 1919 Both houses of Congress vote to pass the 19th Amendment by slim margins; ratification by states begins
- August 18, 1920 Tennessee becomes the 36th state to ratify
- August 26, 1920 19th Amendment declared in effect and an official part of the Constitutional Amendments
- 1965 Voting Rights Act, finally removing barriers for women of color to vote in all 50 states

As we commemorate the official passing of the 19th Amendment, let's embrace the words of John Lewis and use our most precious, powerful and non-violent tool TO VOTE. Our democracy depends on it!
